

About Sam

Sam Guillory, PMAC, CMOM-POD

With more than a decade of experience in podiatric practice management, Sam Guillory has a healthy obsession with feet! She has become an acclaimed speaker for the AAPPM and ASPMA, and continues to travel the nation speaking to physicians, practice administrators, and assistants to better manage their practice.

Sam is the Office Manager and Human Resources Director for Heartland Foot and Ankle Associates, P.C., in Bloomington, Illinois. She joined the practice in 2009 as their first employee and has been credited with much of their success thereafter.

Sam is on the AAPPM's membership committee and a fellow and is an active member of the ASPMA, ISPMA, and AAPPM. She was appointed chairman of the AAPPM's Executive Manager's Group and organizes educational sessions specifically designed for office managers. She holds a podiatric medical assistant certification and a Bachelor of Science degree.
